GUIDELINE FOR AUTHOR

Journal of Community Medicine and Public Health Research (JCMPHR) is published two times a year in June and December. JCMPHR publishes articles in the field of community medicine and public health focusing on family health care, epidemiology, biostatistics, public health administration, management of health, as well as a variety of other fields related to those disciplines. The types of the articles are original research, case reports, review articles. The manuscript should be written according to the Document Template. All authors are obliged to follow the Guideline for Author, and Submission Manuscript.

General Principles

Manuscripts should be in MS-Word in document format (doc, Docx, or RTF) in A4 format, 210 mm (8,27”) on width and 297 mm (11,69”) on height. The manuscript should be in one column, using Times New Roman font with font size 12, and one-and-a-half-space. The section headings are on boldface capital letters. Second-level headings are typed in boldface capital and lowercase letters. Third level headings are typed in boldface italic capital and lowercase letters. Tables, figures, and illustrations are placed within the text of the manuscripts. Articles will be published in US English.

The Author’s Name(s)

The author’s names is complete and the home institutions of the authors are written with an initial capital letter for each word in Times New Roman font, size 11, center-aligned. If there is more than 1 author, all is written, separated by commas. Numeric code in superscript is added behind the author’s name. the author’s home institution is written under the author’s name beginning with a numeric code (superscript). The name of institution is followed by the name of the city and the country where the institution is located. At least one of the author is required to add their ORCID IDs listed in <https://orcid.org/>. The link should be embedded on the ORCID logo after the author’s names.

Abstract and Keywords

The abstract should be prepared in English. Abstract in maximally 200-250 words, started with short explanation on the objectives of the study. Describe materials & method in detail and clearly the research process undertaken, including experimental design, equipment used, methods in data collection, location description, and types of treatment. The results data are presented briefly with reviews in the form of narrative text. Information provided only result presented, no interpretation of data or conclusions from the existing data. The main conclusions/summary of the study should be presented in a short conclusions section, answering the question of the research. Keywords in English is limited 3-6 words or short phrases that will allow proper and convenient indexing. The author(s) must add at least 1 keyword of SDGs in the manuscript submitted to the JCMPHR.

Tables

Cite tables in ascending numerals according to their consecutive appearance in the text. A brief descriptive title is placed above the table. Do not submit your tables in separate files. The table is displayed with horizontal lines in the header (first row) and only in the end, without vertical lines.

Figures

Figure should be either professionally drawn or photographed, and in a format (JPEG or TIFF). Ensure that figures are clear, labelled, and of a size that can be reproduced legibly in the journal. The image title is centered and placed at the bottom of the image. Each figure should have a concise caption describing accurately what the figure depicts. Including the captions in the text of the manuscript. Figure captions begin with the term figures. Figures should be with the captions placed below in limited numbers. No punctuation is to be placed at the end of the caption. Identify all elements found in the figure caption; and use boxes, circles, etc., as coordinate points in graphs. Figures should be quotes in the text in sequence and separated from the text.
