STYLE

All manuscripts should follow the style below:

a. File format

The format for the manuscript should be in .docx format.

The length of the manuscript is described in article type.

c. Font

Arial sized 9, except title sized 14, and authors sized 11.

d. Layout and spacing

j. Units of measurement

SI units are used.

k. Species names

Write using italics (e.g., Homo sapiens) with full the genus and species, both in the title of the manuscript and at the first mention of an organism in a paper. After the first mention, the first letter of the genus name followed by the full species name may be used (e.g., H. sapiens).

Discussion

Authors should explain how the results relate to the hypothesis presented as the basis of the study and provide a succinct explanation of the implications of the findings, particularly in relation to previous related studies and potential future directions for research. The content of the discussion section includes the explanation of results, references to previous research, deduction, and hypothesis. This section cannot be divided into subsections.

Conclusion

This should clearly explain the main conclusions of the article, highlighting its importance and relevance as well as suggestion or recommendation for further research.
